NIRMA UNIVERSITY AT A GLANCE

Established in the year 2003, the Nirma University, Ahmedabad is a research-oriented, student-centric, multidisciplinary, not-for-profit state private university. Within a short period of its existence, it has emerged as a nationally renowned higher education institution. The University and its constituent institutes are highly ranked by different ranking agencies.

Nirma University is duly recognised by the University Grants Commission (UGC) under Section 2 (f) of the UGC Act. The University is accredited by the National Assessment and Accreditation Council (NAAC) and recognized as Centre of Excellence by the Government of Gujarat. The University is a member of Association of Indian Universities (AIU) and the Association of Commonwealth Universities (ACU).

Dr Karsanbhai K Patel, Chairman, Nirma Group of Industries and Nirma Education and Research Foundation (NERF), is the President of the Nirma University. Under his leadership, the University is expanding every passing year and moving from strength to strength.

Spread across the sprawling lush green 115-acres campus, the University has a host of institutes, departments and centres, including Institute of Technology, Institute of Management, Institute of Pharmacy, Institute of Science, Institute of Law, Institute of Architecture & Planning, Institute of Commerce, Institute of Design, Faculty of Doctoral Studies and Research, Centre for Continuing Education, Centre for Entrepreneurship, Centre for Advanced Instrumentation and Centre for Robotics and Automation. These institutions offer numerous undergraduate, postgraduate and doctoral programmes. Apart from these, the University also offers several certificate and diploma programmes

Established in 2007 as a constituent of Nirma University, within a short span of years, the Institute of Law has grown up at the national level. Now, we extend our reach at the international level with an aim of providing global exposure to the students. The Institute has an unmatched array of courses and academic offerings. Students have an opportunity to pursue a broad curriculum using rich educational resources in a dynamic and creative learning environment of Justice Education. The curriculum is constantly revised according to the changing legal and other environmental developments including globalisation. All our initiatives are a living proof of our commitment to every student's success in their career.

The Institute prepares the inquisitive minds and sharpens their visions in multifarious methods of a robustly designed pedagogy on Justice Education which is a perfect blend of Law, Commerce, Humanities and Social Science.

MESSAGE FROM THE VICE PRESIDENT

At the very outset, I would like to congratulate the Institute of Law, Nirma University for successfully hosting the International Teaching Month over the past years. This would not have been possible without the mutual support and cooperation of all its global partners.

I have always been of the firm belief that the success of any university depends on its ability to forge strategic alliances with global international partners. This helps the students to have a better understanding of global ideas and perspectives. Further, it helps in expanding and sustaining avenues for economic growth. We at Nirma University aim to groom our students to take up jobs, jurisdictional practices, and entrepreneurship around the globe. We focus on the global outlook of our students nurturing them with knowledge and values which derive authority globally and are relevant locally. And this initiative of organising "International Teaching Month" is a step towards achieving this aim for our students.

I extend my best wishes for the successful completion of International Teaching Month 2022.

Shri K. K. Patel
Vice President Nirma University

MESSAGE FROM THE DIRECTOR GENERAL

Internationalisation at Institute of Law, Nirma University is a platform for collaboration of professors and thinkers from all over the world, coming from different walks of life. It gives the students an opportunity to interact and learn from faculty who are the best in their field. Today, more than ever there is a fundamental need for people of diverse backgrounds to come together and share their experiences and ideas. This stems from the fact that the world today is a global village where people of different regions face similar obstacles, being at the cusp of ideological and political shifts. The Institute understands the importance of shaping competent individuals who can contribute towards the society at large by learning not only about laws pertaining to their own country but that of other countries as well.

Dr. Anup K. Singh
Director General Nirma University

FROM THE DIRECTOR'S DESK

Globalisation has posed new challenges and created a new civic responsibility which extends beyond the national boundaries. This has necessitated the fundamental reconceptualisation of legal education. Today, legal professionals working in a global environment need to understand national and international laws and the global impact of state specific laws and vice versa. The issues like climate change, changing concept of sovereignty, global terrorism, human right issues, war crimes, trade related issues are truly global in nature. This requires the exposure of the students to the diverse perspectives, law and policy related to such issues through collaborative approaches of various law schools across the world. To provide such opportunities to the students, Institute of Law, Nirma University organises the International Teaching Month every year. I hope that the interaction and exchange of knowledge through various expert sessions during the International Teaching Month will make the students of ILNU understand the changing paradigm of law at global level in a better manner.

Dr. Madhuri Parikh
Director and Dean (I/c.) Institute of Law,
Nirma University, Ahmedabad

PREFACE

Internationalisation at the Institute of Law, Nirma University is a strategy that integrates an international and intercultural vision into the curriculum of law, revolutionising the conceptual understanding and pedagogical approaches for the subject.

Throughout internationalisation, the Institute has created a platform for collaboration of academicians and thinkers from many parts of the world and different walks of life. It gives the students an opportunity to interact and learn from experts who have proven their mettle in their respective fields. Today more than ever, there is a fundamental need for people of diverse backgrounds and fields to come together and share their experiences and ideas. This stems from the fact that the world today is a global village where people of different regions face similar challenges, being at the cusp of ideological and political shifts. The Institute understands the importance of shaping competent individuals who are capable of fulfilling their social obligations by acquiring a global understanding of law.

REFLECTIONS - SHARING EXPERIENCES

Prof. Stephen G. Barnes

Assistant Dean for Graduate and International Programs, Penn State Law, USA

"Penn State Law and Nirma University Institute of Law have enjoyed a terrific partnership since 2016, represented by student and faculty exchanges, LL.M scholarships for Nirma law graduates, and other academic activities. More personally, I have been honored to work with Dr. Purvi Pokhariyal, and am especially thrilled to annually teach 1-2 ten-day courses. I call Ahmedabad my "home city in India": an important city in the lifetime of Gandhi ji and the New India; also the city where Nirma University Institute of Law convenes learners from around the world to share and learn with Nirma students and professors."

Judge Mel Flanagan

Visiting Professor, University of Sarajevo and Adjunct Professor, Nirma University, Institute of Law, India; Former Circuit Judge, Wisconsin, USA

"I have had the opportunity to be a guest instructor at the Nirma University, Institute of Law in 2018 and 2019 and look forward to returning again in February of 2022. I have previously taught classes on Women & Justice, and Trial Advocacy & Communication. This year I will be teaching a course on the United States Justice System.

I have taught law students in the United States and in Bosnia but teaching at ILNU has been a unique experience for me. The students are very engaged in the subject matter and willing to discuss and debate issues quite freely. My classes are very interactive and challenging for students, and often they challenge me. They don't sit passively listening and they are happy to engage with the class and the material which increases their understanding and retention.

Rather than lecture, I prefer to facilitate their examination and understanding of the material. I present opportunities for the students to understand and critically evaluate legal systems. I expect students to be prepared and to contribute in every class and the students of ILNU have not let me down.

We have lively discussions about comparing legal systems to better understand the purpose, impact and effectiveness of each, and to identify the common features, differences, conflicts and failings. We also discuss how important it is that any justice system have the trust and support of the citizens and protect and preserve the rule of law and equal justice to all.

I am very comfortable on campus and enjoy the closeness of the NIRMA and ILNU community. Everyone is very friendly and welcoming. There are many opportunities to meet with students, faculty and staff outside of normal classes and to learn more about each other – whether it is walking, running, playing badminton or just sitting and talking. Because I come from abroad and have experience in numerous legal systems, we often discuss my background and I am always interested in learning more about their lives, goals and aspirations.

I am very grateful for the opportunity to be part of the ILNU community and hope to continue this relationship for years to come."

Prof. Ricky Lee

Adjunct Professor of Law, University of Notre Dame, Australia and Intellectual Forum Senior Research, Associate Jesus College, University of Cambridge, United Kingdom

I have really enjoyed my experience here. The people, the staff, the students have been really welcoming and I have a very enthusiastic group of students who are very active in asking questions. That certainly shows that they have done their homework, have done background reading and generally show a great interest in the subject matter they are learning which in my case is space law. What I found amazing at Nirma University Institute of Law is the enthusiasm and the dedication the students here show in their learning. Students here are so committed and dedicated to learning, attaining knowledge and being good lawyers that they would engage themselves in subjects that may not have direct relevance to the area of law that they might end up practising one day. But they are still enthusiastic, they participate, they turn up, they prepare and more importantly, they learn. I think if there is anything that is hallmark of a good Law School and a good group of law students then that is the best benchmark you can find."

Prof. Adam Dubin

Professor, Faculty of Law Comillas Universidad Pontificia, Madrid, Spain

"The ITM at Nirma Institute exemplifies what it means to teach a globally - focused curriculum and train students to think and act internationally. Global education is about bringing together in an academic setting the sharing of ideas, perspectives and experiences amongst people from different parts of the world. Nirma Institute provides to its students a truly international education by complementing and enriching their learning through a week of interaction with global faculty. And on a personal level, I have benefited tremendously from this experience, not only through my interaction with Nirma's brilliant students but also through the friendships and professional relationships I have developed with Nirma's amazing faculty."

Prof. John Winterdyk

Professor of Criminology, Department of Economics, Justice, and Policy Studies Mount Royal University, Calgary

"Hello, my name is Professor John Winterdyk. I am a criminologist and I am a lawyer. I come from Mount Royal University which is located in Calgary, Alberta, Canada which is in western Canada. I am glad to be back and share my knowledge, my experience with the students and faculty members. I particularly enjoy in addition to sharing but also learning from the students and faculty here. I think it is a wonderful concept that Madam Dean has introduced and used for this particular institution. I have been to many other universities where they do not have this type of initiative or a program where they bring in foreign scholars to share with the students and faculty so to be a part of this is a real honor. I hope that the students, as well as the faculty, really enjoy and appreciate and recognize the value of what's being done."

OUR STUDENTS' SPEAK

"International teaching Month has been a great learning experience for the students at ILNU. It has exposed the students at one instance to the laws of different Countries which contributes to the bag of knowledge immensely. In the offline mode, we had an opportunity to take courses in areas like space law, artificial intelligence, etc. from the global experts of the subject area. Even Covid-19 didn't become a roadblock & the students continue to acquire skills & knowledge from the best of the Globe. The benefits have been multiple, training has been also provided in areas like Moot, Alternative Dispute Resolution. The best about this month is the cultural exchange that it facilitates & gives an opportunity to move beyond the boundaries."

Nandini Goyal

4th Year Student President, Nirma Institute of Law
Student Activities Association (NILSAA)

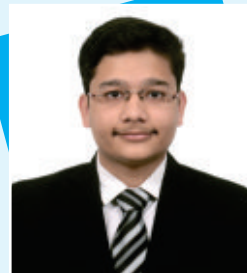

"The International Teaching Month is an important facet of Institute of Law, Nirma University's commitment to provide a global and holistic exposure to its students. It offers an unparalleled experience for students to engage in discourse around complex legal issues with some of the best minds across the globe. Further, it also helps students expand their network and make meaningful connections for a lifetime. I have benefitted from International Teaching Month in more than one ways and am confident that it is fundamental to one's progress at ILNU."

Nayanika Goyal

4th Year Student

"If one is looking for an event in the legal sphere that provides global exposure and facilitates interaction between experience and new ideas, the International Teaching Month is just the right platform. It is a wonderful opportunity to witness globally renowned academicians and legal practitioners share their insights about contemporary legal issues. The biggest takeaway is being able to appreciate and analyze an issue from multiple perspectives shared by speakers belonging to different jurisdictions. These interactions give birth to novel ideas and provide law students with the right impetus to engage and research for better solutions."

Aadesh Shinde

5th Year Student

"It is an immense privilege for all students of ILNU to be given the opportunity to learn and absorb the knowledge and experience of the expert faculty invited during International teaching month. The insights recieved are not restricted to merely legal topics, but rather facilitate cultural exposure and an introduction to the significance of the law of outside the boundaries of one's own nation. This is necessary to create an international bridge in which the exchange of crucial information occurs irrespective of the roadblocks, further highlighted by the fact that this programme persists and thrives in the time of COVID."
