PERSONAL LEARNING ENVIRONMENTS AS THE EPITOME OF SELF LEARNING IN THE NEW WORLD

Authors:

Surekha Patil

Abstract:

The present research work focuses on Personal Learning Environment (PLE) as the ways and methods of learning have been changed with passing time and the use of technology. PLE can be described as the epitome of self-learning in this changing era. Personal Learning Environment (PLE) is varied from our regular teaching ways. With developing various mediums of communication, personal learning has become possible. The era in which we live today is full of various uses of technology and we cannot keep ourselves far from the new concept of Self Learning which can also be called E-Learning. E-learning facilitates us with continuous learning from anywhere, anytime and every corner of the world. One can access at any time for self-learning. In nutshell, the research work emphasises to motivate the learners with the new concept of learning and will work as a torch for the new generation learners to tune with the changing time.
